Dear Head,

Sharing an enthusiasm for coding is at the centre of everything we do at First Coding, Salisbury's first coding school. We're committed to demystifying the world of coding, and helping children understand that they can turn their ideas into reality in a few easy steps. As part of this outreach activity, we would like to offer your school a free interactive session. The talk would be ideal for KS2 and KS3, and would include a look at what it's like to be a developer, plus a chance to get some hands on experience with a homemade robot or two!

A little bit about us...

First Coding is made up of myself (Jez) and Mark. With my background in technology, combined with my qualifications in art and design, I've got a history of creating projects that allow my imagination to come to life! I like to bring in my robots when I talk to school groups about coding, and I like to think if it makes even one child realise that they could do it, it's a successful session!

You can find out more about us on our website www.firstcoding.co.uk

We would love to organise a free talk for your school or book a time to discuss ways in which First Coding can assist with the teaching of coding.

Many thanks for your time and I look forward to hearing from you.
